

NEW TO TEACHING ACCOUNTING

AN ONLINE COURSE FOR NEW ACCOUNTING EDUCATORS

Open to new accounting teachers, and those considering a career in education.

The course is delivered as a series of three online interactive workshops in consecutive weeks.

Our facilitators and speakers are knowledgeable accounting educators with experience as university teachers, researchers and heads of school.

Venue: Accounting Cafe

Dates and Times: Tuesdays 24 May, 31 May and 7 June from 18.00 to 19.30 (UK)

---

WEEK 1 INTRODUCTION

- Routes to academia and what do university recruiters look for in applicants?
  - What to expect working in university: a day in the life of an accounting academic.
  - Who are my students? Specialist and non-specialist teaching; undergraduate, postgraduate and professional students; classroom teaching and dissertation supervision.
  - What subjects will I teach and how is university teaching distinctive?
-

WEEK 2 CONTINUATION

- Building your network.
  - Attending and presenting at conferences.
  - Teaching resources: where to find textbooks, cases, articles and classroom resources.
  - Achieving balance: work smarter not harder.
-

WEEK 3 ACTION

How to design a module:

- Understanding how your module fits within your students' programme.
  - Writing or understanding learning outcomes.
  - Deciding on the order of subjects.
  - Selecting teaching strategies.
  - Planning and writing assessments.
-

Course fee: £100

► Enrol now at: accountingcafe.org/course/ntta